

CMC Packaging Automation has obtained certification for compliance with UNI EN ISO 27001:2013.

We are proud to announce that CMC Packaging Automation has obtained certification for compliance with UNI EN ISO 27001:2013, the highest industry standard in information security management.

Within our global ESG approach, and recognizing the importance of data security and integrity, we successfully completed the certification process for our Information Security Management system according to the UNI EN ISO 27001:2013.

An ISO 27001-certified business follows established practices to protect data, manage the security of all assets, and reduce any potential security threats.

Thanks to this certification, our clients and partners can be sure that their data are effectively protected against possible breaches.
